Having the right channel to communicate and share ideas is crucial. JEC Talk series initiated by the institution through YouTube throws open an opportunity to the academicians to educate the common people on technology selection and their usage, during their daily life. The practice has enabled the faculty to equip themselves to dispense their vast experience and knowledge in a public stream and it emerged as the best way to discover their inner extrovert nature. To invite more attention and acceptance from the society, the mode of delivery is adopted as Malayalam - the native language. The domain of topics covered in the individual sessions are planned in such a way that it interests both young and old, students and public, and spans across the various sectors of their life like education, finance, safety on road, building construction, science and technology, cooking, home appliances, environment and health
